Train Blast in India Kills 43

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Forty-three persons were killed and 127 others injured Wednesday night in the second explosion within three months aboard a train in a rebellious area of eastern India, the Indian government radio announced.

The broadcast said the blast shattered several compartments of the Tinsukia-New Jalpaiguri train as it stood in Lumding railway station. Medical teams and investigators were rushed to the isolated town deep in the wild Naga hills about 350 miles northeast of Calcutta.

The cause of the disaster was not yet known, the radio said. But rebel Naga tribesmen in Assam State have been waging a guerrilla campaign for years against the central government's control.

The Nagas were blamed for two explosions aboard the Assam Mail Express on Feb. 16 in which 38 persons were killed.

Naga leaders recently conferred with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and pressed their case for establishment of a

Five Bar Killings in Seedy Section of Detroit Brings Apprehension to the Public

By BILL HALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Apprehension—tinged with humor—gripped patrons and employees today in an eight-block string of Detroit bars where five persons have been slain in the past few weeks.

"Some people are scared," said one bartender. "I heard a couple of guys saying, 'We'd better get the hell outa here by one o'clock. But you can't tell if they're kidding.'"

The bodies of Ann Slazenger, 45, night manager, and Edmund Thompson, 48, a porter, were found Wednesday morning at the Verdi Bar on the edge of a deteriorating section near downtown Detroit.

Last Feb. 23, the bodies of bar owner Philip Laudicina, 45; Ruth Dukes, 34, and porter Philip Hood, 67, were found in the Miami bar, eight blocks north of Verdi's.

Police said Mrs. Slazenger, Thompson, Laudicina and Mrs. Dukes all had been bound and then shot through the head. Hood was shot in the head but not tied up.

About $200 was missing from the Miami bar, and $1,000 from Verdi's.

Homicide Inspector Robert Grindle called Wednesday's slaying an execution and said he was "pretty much convinced that the same men were responsible" for all five murders.

Police still have not solved the Miami bar holdup-slaying. The saloon has been shuttered ever since the holdup and reportedly is up for sale. Verdi's was closed Wednesday night.

But it was business as usual at other bars in the neighborhood, an older section of the city filled with low rent apartments, flats, and small businesses.

Naga state. She pronounced the talks satisfactory, but one Naga faction wants to fight rather than to negotiate and the rebellion has continued.

The Indian government also has been plagued by rebellion of the Mizo tribesmen in the hills of southeast India, south of the Nagas between East Pakistan and Burma. They overran the towns of Aijal and Langleh last month and it took at least a brigade of Indian army troops nad planes to push them out. Langleh is about 200 miles south of Lumding.

Train Robber Is Captured by British

LONDON (AP)—James Edward White, hunted for nearly three years in Britain's multi-million-dollar great train robbery, was seized today by police.

White, 46, came out of hiding last weekend—broke and appearing nervous—and tried to sell his story to two journalists within a bus ride of famed Scotland Yard.

Then he vanished again and Scotland Yard took up the trail. Accused of being one of the masterminds of the robbery, White disappeared after the robbery Aug. 8, 1963. He had

Baptists Turn Down Proposal

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — The North American Baptist association decided at its 17th annual session here Wednesday to turn down a proposal to establish a four-year college at Oklahoma City.
But the session approved a $300,000 building fund for its Little Rock headquarters. It also has a headquarters at Jacksonville, Tex.
Some of the 2,500 messengers attending the session said they felt the association could not afford a senior college, and some said they feared the cost of the venture would hurt junior colleges supported by state association affiliates.
The association says it has members in 27 states and three foreign countries.

Posthumous Award to Paratrooper

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson presents the Medal of Honor posthumously today to a young Negro paratrooper who threw himself on a Communist hand grenade in South Viet Nam and absorbed the blast with his body to protect four fellow soldiers.
A White House ceremony was scheduled at noon to honor 19-year-old Pfc. Milton L. Olive III of Chicago with the nation's highest military decoration.
The youth's father, Milton L. Olive of Chicago, and about 20 other relatives of the hero were flown to Washington Wednesday night for the ceremony. The dead soldier is the third person and first Negro to be awarded the Medal of Honor for service in Viet Nam.
Young Olive was killed in action against Communist forces in Viet Nam Oct. 22, 1965, after falling on the grenade. The citation credits that act with saving the four lives.
The citation states: "Through his bravery, unhesitating action and complete disregard of his own safety, he prevented additional loss of life or injury to the members of his platoon. Pfc. Olive's conspicuous extraordinary heroism and intrepidity at the risk of his own life above and beyond the call of duty are in the highest tradition of the United States Army and reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of his country."
For Olive's father, a slim, soft-spoken warehouseman, his son's death had an added purpose, he proudly told the Chicago City Council during a ceremony Wednesday.
"During World War II," Olive said, "unfortunate statements were made about the service and bravery of the Negro to our country."
"I am convinced now that the service the Negro soldier has given in Viet Nam has erased for all time the disparaging statements made about Negro servicemen," he said. "This honor gives us richer heritage."
Pfc. Olive's medal will join other mementoes in a glass-door cabinet in his father's room.
They include photographs which show young Olive as a grave, curious child looking with wonder at Santa Claus' beard; staring intently at a flock of chickens of his grandfather's Mississippi farm; and posing in uniform beside a Christmas tree shortly before he was sent to Viet Nam.
The cabinet also holds his Army uniform, two Purple Hearts (one awarded posthumously) and a cartridge fired at his military funeral.
"He was proud of his uniform," the elder Olive told the City Council, "and we felt it was a definite possibility he might decide to stay in (the Army)."

Moors Trial Underway in England

CHESTER, England (AP) — Police guarded defense lawyers in the Moors murder trial today and midwives were on hand to keep watch over a pregnant witness as she testified.
Fearing that passions aroused by the sensational trial might lead to violence, guards were posted at the homes of lawyers Emlyn Hooson and Godfrey Heilpern and at the home of Heilpern's mother.
The precautions were taken following the murder of Heilpern's sister-in-law, Rachel Heilpern, 53. Her body was found Tuesday night at the dress shop she managed 30 miles from Chester. She had been stabbed through the heart.
Detective Supt. Wilfred Cunliffe said so far there was nothing to indicate the murder was connected with the Moors trial, "but in a murder investigation one cannot rule out anything."
Three police midwives were on duty for the resumption of the trial today. The court was to hear more testimony from Maureen Smith, 19, who expects a baby at any time.
Mrs. Smith is the sister of Myra Hindley, 23, who with her lover, Ian Brady, 27, is charged with the murder of three children for thrills.
Mrs. Smith, wearing a gray tweed coat and a maternally smock, faced her sister and Brady Wednesday as she testified for about 30 minutes. Atty. Gen. Sir Elwyn Jones had interrupted his outline of the prosecution case to bring her to the witness stand because of the advanced state of her pregnancy.
Earlier Jones told the all-male jury that Miss Hindley, a stenographer, and Brady, a clerk, enticed 10-year-old Lesley Ann Downey into a house and subjected her to "utmost indignities" before she was killed.
Jones said that among Brady's possessions were photographs of Lesley Ann naked. Her nude body and the body of John Kilbride, 12, were found last fall buried on the wild, peat-moored hills. Jones said the boy was subjected to sexual indignities shortly before he was killed.
Jones said the trousers and underwear of the third victim, Edward Evans, 17, had been disturbed before he was hacked with an ax and strangled.
13-Year-Old Is Heroine of Year
CHICAGO (AP) — Last fall 13-year-old Gloria Cassidy of New York City rescued 3-year-old twin brothers from an apartment fire.
Tuesday she became the first person to be named "Heroine of the Year" by the Girls Club of America.
Gloria suffered burns on her hands, face, arms and legs and is still convalescing.

New Telephone Wire Chief

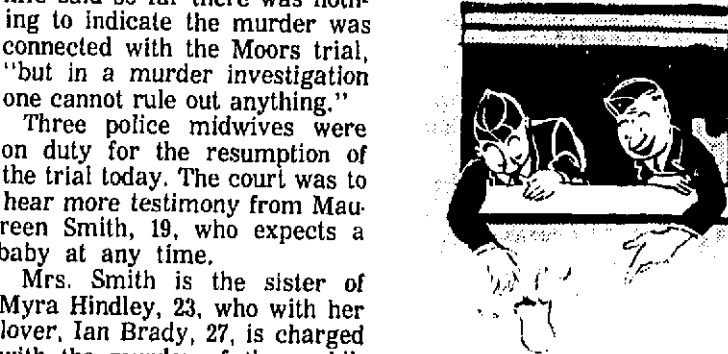

Mrs. Dorothy Miller

Mrs. Dorothy Miller, formerly of Arkadelphia, has been named chief operator for Southwestern Bell-Arkansas in this part of the state, according to District Traffic Superintendent A. W. Kurrus of Hot Springs.
Mrs. Miller, who has 15 years of service with the telephone company, replaces Mrs. Lena Maryman, who is retiring after holding the chief operators job since March, 1959.
As chief operator, Mrs. Miller will be in charge of all telephone operators in this area.
A native of Arkadelphia, she began her career there with Southwestern Bell-Arkansas in 1950 as an operator. She held subsequent positions as central office clerk, service assistant, and assistant chief operator before being named chief operator in May of 1961.
Mrs. Miller and her husband, Marvin, who is assistant chief of police in Arkadelphia, have a five-month-old daughter, Jane Ellen. Mrs. Miller was a member of the B&PW Club and the Chamber of Commerce in Arkadelphia. The Millers were members of Baring Cross Baptist Church there.
They are making their home at 315 South Walker Street in Hope.

Mesa, Ariz. (AP) — June Clark is now sneezing only once every eight minutes.
The 17-year-old girl from Carroll City, Fla., is making progress, her father believes.
Before she left Florida last week for a change of climate, she was sneezing once every five minutes.
Miss Clark hasn't stopped sneezing, however, for 16 weeks and doctors seem to be at a loss to help her.
"June's nose is starting to itch," said her father. "We're hoping that's a good sign."

Hedy Lamarr to Trial for Shoplifting

LOS ANGELES (AP) Three witnesses have testified they watched actress Hedy Lamarr stuff $86 worth of merchandise into a shopping bag and then leave the store without paying.
The three, all employees of the department store where the actress was arrested last Jan. 27, testified Wednesday at Miss Lamarr's trial. She is charged with petty theft and has pleaded innocent.
Another witness testified that the actress, 51, offered to pay for the items — ranging from eye makeup to men's cologne — after she was apprehended by security officers in the parking lot.
Miss Lamarr's lawyer, Jordan Wank, has indicated her defense will be that she suffered a mental lapse.

Look Out Below!

Through two rollicking days, delegates at a veterans' convention had fun. From the windows of their hotel they joyfully dropped bags of water on unsuspecting passers-by.
But on the third day came trouble. A cluster of pedestrians, catching sight of a descending bag, scattered in panic. One man, crowded off the curb and against a passing car, suffered severe injuries.
Unable to find out who had dropped this particular bag, the victim filed a damage suit against the hotel. And he collected. The court said it was the hotel's duty, after mischief had continued so long, to put a stop to it.

A Real Hair Problem
Dear Helen: My mother gets shook because of the bathroom tile and my hair. Can I help it if my hair falls out while I am brushing? I try to wipe them up with a wet cloth, but they stick to the tile and I don't have time to vacuum every morning. We get along pretty well, my folks and I, except about the bathroom. Personally I think tile is a nuisance. It shows every little hair and every one of those hairs stick to it — much worse than linoleum. Any suggestions, like telling my mother to cool it, or something?
— Long Haired Girl

Dear Girl: Hairs on bathroom tile were a big problem to me until I learned you can wipe them up easily with pieces of DRY toilet or facial tissue. They stick to the paper where wet cloths only make them cling stubbornly to the floor.
Try it, and your mother may send me a vote of thanks. — H.

Love, Hate Or Good Friends?
Dear Helen: Some weeks ago this girl and I broke up. She thought it would be better to be just good friends again, for when we went together we had too many arguments.
Well, here's the problem. I am afraid if I continue to be a good friend with her, I'll start liking her once more as a girl friend, which I know she won't go for. So my only alternative is to hate her so I won't fall in love with her again. But for this I know the kids would put me down. Is there any other way — Mixed Up Boy.

Dear Boy: They say hate is akin to love, so "staying friend" should be safest. Besides, it's more fun. . . And when you learn not to argue so much, well, the door is wide open, chum. — H.

Dear Helen: My father niece's is getting married and recently

we received two invitations to the wedding. One was addressed to my parents and our teenage sister. The other was addressed to my brother and me. I am 21, he is 18, and we're both away at college. Neither of us is employed. Because they separated us, I like two families, does this mean we have to give two separate gifts? We've always been included in a single invitation before. — Broke As Usual

Dear Broke: You received separate invitations because you are college MEN, but a combination gift form all the family will be just fine. — H.

Royal Chef Is Restained

LONDON (AP) — A chef who worked three years for Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon is under court orders not to divulge information about what he observed in Kensington Palace.
The royal couple was granted temporary orders by a London court Tuesday against the chef, Leo Groden, 52.
The action was started after an article appeared last week about the royal couple in a German magazine. An aide to the princess said it could only have been written by somebody in Groden's position.

Only about one-third of the world's population has an adequate food supply. In underdeveloped areas the deficiencies, such as undernutrition, protein malnutrition, anemia and beriberi, are predominant. But in regions in which food supplies are abundant and economic levels high, overnutrition, such as obesity, is the problem.

WIN AT BRIDGE

We have no intention of taking a firm stand that South's hand calls for an opening bid of four hearts in fourth seat. He might well decide to open one heart or three hearts and a real pessimist might decide to pass the hand out because of the spade weakness. But a four-heart opening bid looks like a good gamble so let's assume that you are South and bid it. Everyone passes and West opens the deuce of diamonds. East wins the ace and returns the seven spot. You win the trick and naturally go after the trumps. You play the ace and your opponents produce the four and deuce for you. Which trump should you play next? There is a correct play at your disposal and a nothing play is also available. You aren't so very happy about the hand at this point. You have lost a diamond trick and are going to lose a club trick later on unless your opponents really go haywire. If you lose two heart tricks you will be one down.

Going back to the last letter of the key word ARCH, you ask yourself, "How can I make this hand?" and the answer is: "By getting away with only one trump loser." Is there any play that gives you a chance to hold your trump loser against best defense? There sure is! If you lead out your queen of hearts at this point and one of your opponents started with the doubleton jack your queen will bump the jack and the king will be the only trump trick for East and West.

What happens if you lead out the ten? Unless one of your opponents makes a rather childish error you will lose two trump tricks. You may bump the king but in that case the other player will have started with four to the jack and he won't have to eat it. So the queen play is correct. Any other lead is a nothing lead.

Aaron's Homer Helps Atlanta Rout the Phils

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Hank Aaron, newest member of baseball's exclusive 400-homer club, has his potent bat aimed at another ambitious target.
But Bobby Bragan's magic ruler may have missed the mark.
Aaron poked a pair of homers that helped Atlanta rout Philadelphia 8-1 Wednesday night and the second one had Bragan's ruler giving a foot for every eight inches.
"It went between 575 and 650 feet," Bragan exulted in the Braves' dressing room. Then the Atlanta manager reflected for a moment. "I don't think the Babe ever hit one as far as Henry hit that one."
Aaron just smiled at Bragan's generous measurement and the comparison with the legendary Ruth. He said he thought the historic homer went about 450 feet on the fly. "It was one of the longest home runs I ever hit," he said.
What's next for the 32-year-old veteran of 13 seasons? "Now I'm looking ahead to No. 500," Aaron told newsmen. "I'll be happy with another 100 before I finish."
Only four active players including Aaron's teammate, Ed Matthews, have more homers than the slugging right fielder. The others are San Francisco's Willie Mays, Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs and Mickey Vernon of the New York Yankees.
Lee Thomas also homered for the Braves and added a pair of singles. Ken Johnson went all the way, permitting just six hits.
Elsewhere in the National League Wednesday, Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 3-2 and Los Angeles nipped Houston 3-2. St. Louis' game at New York and San Francisco's game at Chicago were postponed by bad weather.

In the American League, Cleveland tripped New York 4-2, Boston downed Detroit 5-3, Baltimore defeated Washington 6-3 and California edged Chicago 4-3 in 11 innings.
Minnesota's game at Kansas City was rained out.
Claude Osteen pitched his third straight complete game victory for the Dodgers, a seven-inning effort against the Astros.
Outfielder Al Ferrara walked a second inning homer and then drove in a tie-breaking run with a seventh inning single that sent Los Angeles in front to stay.
Houston pushed across a run in the ninth and had the tying run on base when Osteen struck out pinch hitter Jim Gentile, ending the game.
Clendenon had opened the Pirates ninth with a single and moved to third on Bill Mazeroski's hit. Bob Bailey was intentionally walked before Pagan's fly ball won it.

Celtics Make It 2-1 in Pro Title Playoff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We didn't come out here to split," said Boston Celtic Coach Red Auerbach, clarifying his team's intentions, in case there was any doubt.
The Celtics had just taken a 2-1 lead in the National Basketball Association final playoffs with a decisive 120-106 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers, and Auerbach had a reason.
"The Lakers played well, but we played better," he said.
The win Wednesday night before 15,101 fans at the Sports Arena gave the defending champion Celtics the lead for the first time in the final series and established them as favorites to win their eighth straight NBA title.
The series resumes here Friday night and returns to Boston Sunday. The sixth and seventh games, if necessary, will be here next Tuesday and in Boston next Thursday, respectively.
Laker Coach Fred Schaus praised the Celtics and their veteran star Bill Russell.
It was Celtic veterans Russell, Sam Jones and Tom Sanders who led a third-quarter rally, giving the visitors a decisive advantage.
The teams struggled evenly through the first half, and the score was deadlocked 17 times.

Whitfield Bats Tigers Over Yankees 4-2

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Manager Johnny Keane supposedly has had a little talk with his New York Yankees. He might meet with more success if he had a long talk with Fred Whitfield.
Keane has minimized his meeting with the Yankees, but there was no way to minimize Whitfield's bat Wednesday night as the Cleveland first baseman continued his one-man assault on New York pitching by hammering a game-winning homer in the Indians' 4-2 victory.
Apparently upset at the Yankees' dismal start, Keane reportedly blasted the players in a behind-closed-doors meeting before the Cleveland series got underway. But he didn't place any special emphasis on the session.
Tuesday night, Whitfield provided all of Cleveland's runs with a homer in a 3-1 victory over New York, then Wednesday night he hit a two-run smash in the eighth inning that broke a 2-2 tie and gave the unbeaten Indians their sixth victory.
Whitfield murdered Yankee pitching last year, hitting 10 of his 26 homers against New York, and his latest homers have nailed the Yankees into last place in the American League with a 1-7 record — the worst in either league.
Elsewhere, Baltimore rode the hitting of Andy Etchebarren and Luis Aparicio to a 6-3 victory over Washington, Tony Conigliaro hit his first homer as Boston tripped Detroit 5-3 and California edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 11 innings. Minnesota and Kansas City were rained out.
In the National League, Atlanta walloped Philadelphia 8-1, Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 3-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston 3-2. The San Francisco-Chicago and St. Louis-New York games were rained out.
Etchebarren doubled and scored the Orioles first run, then put Baltimore ahead to stay with a fifth inning homer that broke a 1-1 tie. Aparicio stroked two doubles and a single, driving in the first run in a four-run seventh inning uprising capped by Boog Powell's two run double.
Wally Bunker got the victory for the Orioles with Stu Miller's relief help while Senators' starter Pete Richert took the loss.
The Red Sox trailed the Tigers 2-1 when Conigliaro, last year's AL home run king, came up in the sixth inning with two up and smashed his first 1966

Unbeaten Arkansas Tops League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unbeaten Arkansas extended its Texas League victory streak to five straight Wednesday night while El Paso and Austin won their first games of the season after four losses each.
Chilly weather in Amarillo and Arlington cut down the crowds to new lows.
Righthander Brian Sinnot pitched Arkansas to a 4-2 defeat of Dallas-Fort Worth. Larry Stubing hit a solo homer for Arkansas in the second and Floyd Wicker's double drove home another run in the fifth. Other Arkansas scores were on errors.
El Paso's 4-2 win over Amarillo came in the top of a double header with El Paso recovering from an early Sonics lead and winning on catcher Tom Egan's run. Amarillo took the first game, 3-2 with George Gerberman going the distance, giving up 8 hits in his first win of the season.
Austin took its first victory over Albuquerque 9-0, with Pat House serving up a five-hitter while Rafael Gomez and Bob Connolly paced an eight-hit attack. Albuquerque got runners as far as third base only two times as House struck out nine and walked one.

Army Men to the Aid of West Point

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Army men are coming out to help put a coachless West Point football team together for next fall.
"We are moving right along with our spring drills," Tom Cahill, who has coached the Army freshman for the last six years, said today. "The morale is good, attitude excellent and we're getting the work done."
Cahill, a 46-year-old former infantry officer, and Tad Schroeder, quarterback coach, were the only assistants remaining when Paul Dietzel quit earlier this month and took five aides with him to the University of South Carolina.
That left Army facing spring drills without a head coach and none in sight—a peculiar situation. The job of organizing the practice was tossed into the lap of Cahill.
"With two - platoon football, this is quite a complicated job," Cahill said. "We have managed very well, thanks to the volunteer help of officers around the base who formerly played football here."
Lt. Col. Bill Webb, a tackle on the wartime teams of Doc Blanton and Glenn Davis, is handling the defense. Maj. Peter Lash, a back under Red Blaik, is assisting with the backfield. Maj. Joe Franklin, who played in the mid-50s, is working with the offensive line and Capt. Art Johnson, an Army player in 1946-47, is helping coach the line. Cammie Lewis, son of the late Coach Pappy Lewis, is working with the quarterbacks.

Fine Field in Dallas But Big Pair Missing

DALLAS (AP) — The $85,000 Dallas Open Golf Tournament begins today with its finest field despite the absence of such big names as Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.
Doug Sanders and Gay Brewer, hottest players on the tour and ranking No. 1 and No. 2, respectively, in money — winnngs, are the cofavorites.
And if either wins the $15,000 first money it will mean the Dallas contingent has come through. Eleven pros from Dallas are in the field of 145, and Sanders and Brewer are among them.
And so do Don January, Billy Maxwell, Tony Lama, Ray Floyd, Jacky Cupit, Bruce Crampton, Shelley Mayfield and Joe Black.

Aaron's Homer Helps Atlanta Rout the Phils

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hank Aaron, newest member of baseball's exclusive 400-homer club, has his potent bat aimed at another ambitious target.

But Bobby Bragan's magic ruler may have missed the mark.

Aaron poked a pair of home runs that helped Atlanta rout Philadelphia 8-1 Wednesday night and the second one had Bragan's ruler giving a foot for every eight inches.

"It went between 575 and 650 feet," Bragan exclaimed in the Braves' dressing room. Then the Atlanta manager reflected for a moment. "I don't think the Babe ever hit one as far as Henry hit that one."

Aaron just smiled at Bragan's generous measurement and the comparison with the legendary Ruth. He said he thought the historic homer went about 450 feet on the fly. "It was one of the longest home runs I ever hit," he said.

What's next for the 32-year-old veteran of 13 seasons? "Now I'm looking ahead to No. 500," Aaron told newsmen. "I'll be happy with another 100 before I finish."

Only four active players including Aaron's teammate, Ed Matthews, have more homers than the slugging right fielder. The others are San Francisco's Willie Mays, Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees.

Lee Thomas also homered for the Braves and added a pair of singles. Ken Johnson went all the way, permitting just six hits.

Elsewhere in the National League Wednesday, Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 3-2 and Los Angeles nipped Houston 3-2. St. Louis' game at New York and San Francisco's game at Chicago were postponed by bad weather.

In the American League, Cleveland tripped New York 4-2, Boston downed Detroit 5-3, Baltimore defeated Washington 6-3 and California edged Chicago 4-3 in 11 innings.

Minnesota's game at Kansas City was rained out.

Claude Osteen pitched his third straight complete game victory for the Dodgers, a seven-hitter against the Astros.

Outfielder Al Ferrara walked a second inning homer and then drove in a tie-breaking run with a seventh inning single that sent Los Angeles in front to stay.

Houston pushed across a run in the ninth and had the tying run on base when Osteen struck out pinch hitter Jim Gentile, ending the game.

Clendenon had opened the Pirates' ninth with a single and moved to third on Bill Mazeroski's hit. Bob Bailey was intentionally walked before Pagan's fly ball won it.

Celtics Make It 2-1 in Pro Title Playoff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We didn't come out here to split," said Boston Celtic Coach Red Auerbach, clarifying his team's intentions, in case there was any doubt.

The Celtics had just taken a 2-1 lead in the National Basketball Association final playoffs over the Los Angeles Lakers, and Auerbach had a reason: "The Lakers played well, but we played better."

The win Wednesday night before 15,101 fans at the Sports Arena gave the defending champion Celtics the lead for the first time in the final series and established them as favorites to win their eighth straight NBA title.

The series resumes here Friday night and returns to Boston Sunday. The sixth and seventh games, if necessary, will be here next Tuesday and in Boston next Thursday, respectively.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus praised the Celtics and their veteran star Bill Russell.

It was Celtic veterans Russell, Sam Jones and Tom Sanders who led a third-quarter rally, giving the visitors a decisive advantage.

The teams struggled evenly through the first half, and the score was deadlocked 17 times.

Cold Slows Razorback Workouts

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — It stopped raining before practice, which started after a cold wave moved over the Arkansas Razorbacks' football field Wednesday.

The defending Southwest Conference champions went through a 2½-hour workout, and capping it with a 30-minute scrimmage.

Coach Frank Broyles, who had no kind words for the weather, had some for a play the Porks haven't exactly made famous recently—the full-back draw.

He said the play, with Alvin Jones and Eddie Woodlee doing the ball carrying, was run very well.

David Dickey scored the only touchdown of the scrimmage on a short run and freshmen Steve Miltz kicked an 18-yard field goal.

It was Arkansas' second day back after a 10-day Easter lay-off.

Whitfield Bats Tigers Over Yankees 4-2

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Johnny Keane supposedly has had a little talk with his New York Yankees. He might meet with more success if he had a long talk with Fred Whitfield.

Keane has minimized his meeting with the Yankees, but there was no way to minimize Whitfield's bat Wednesday night as the Cleveland first baseman continued his one-man assault on New York pitching by hammering a game-winning homer in the Indians' 4-2 victory.

Apparently upset at the Yankees' dismal start, Keane reportedly blasted the players in a behind-closed-doors meeting before the Cleveland series got underway. But he didn't place any special emphasis on the session.

Tuesday night, Whitfield provided all of Cleveland's runs with a homer in a 3-1 victory over New York, then Wednesday night he hit a two-run smash in the eighth inning that broke a 2-2 tie and gave the unbeaten Indians their sixth victory.

Whitfield murdered Yankee pitching last year, hitting 10 of his 26 homers against New York, and his latest homers have nailed the Yankees into last place in the American League with a 1-7 record — the worst in either league.

Elsewhere, Baltimore rode the hitting of Andy Etchebarren and Luis Aparicio to a 6-3 victory over Washington. Tony Conigliaro hit his first homer as Boston tripped Detroit 5-3 and California edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 11 innings. Minnesota and Kansas City were rained out.

In the National League, Atlanta walloped Philadelphia 8-1, Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 3-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston 3-2. The San Francisco-Chicago and St. Louis-New York games were rained out.

Etchebarren doubled and scored the Orioles' first run, then put Baltimore ahead to stay with a fifth inning homer that broke a 1-1 tie. Aparicio stroked two doubles and a single, driving in the first run in a four-run seventh inning uprising capped by Boog Powell's two-run double.

Wally Bunker got the victory for the Orioles with Stu Miller's relief hit while Senators' starter Pete Richert took the loss.

The Red Sox trailed the Tigers 2-1 when Conigliaro, last year's AL home run king, came up in the sixth inning with two on and smashed his first 1966 homer, Singles by Lenore Green and Carl Yastrzemski, off reliever Terry Fox, preceded Conigliaro's shot.

Jerry Stephenson, tagged for a homer by Don Demeter, received credit for the victory with relief help from Dick Radatz.

The Angels pushed across the winning run in the 11th when Bob Rodgers singled with two out, moved up on a walk to Paul Schaal and scored on Joe Adcock's pinch-hit single.

The White Sox had pulled into a 3-3 tie on Tom McCraw's run-producing single in the sixth inning, then lost an opportunity to win it in the 10th when Don Buford was nailed attempting to steal home with one out.

Unbeaten Arkansas Tops League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten Arkansas extended its Texas League victory streak to five straight Wednesday night while El Paso and Austin won their first games of the season after four losses each.

Chilly weather in Amarillo and Arlington cut down the crowds to new lows.

Righthander Brian Sinnott pitched Arkansas to a 4-2 defeat of Dallas-Fort Worth. Larry Stubing hit a solo homer for Arkansas in the second and Floyd Wicker's double drove home another run in the fifth. Other Arkansas scores were on errors.

El Paso's 4-2 win over Amarillo came in the top of a double header with El Paso recovering from an early Sonics lead and winning on catcher Tom Egan's run. Amarillo took the first game, 3-2 with George Gerberman going the distance, giving up 8 hits in his first win of the season.

Austin took its first victory over Albuquerque 9-0, with Pat House serving up a five-hitter while Rafael Gomez and Bob Connolly paced an eight-hit attack. Albuquerque got runners as far as third base only two times as House struck out nine and walked one.

College Life

Drug addiction has become a problem on college campuses, the head of the Treasury Department's narcotics Bureau complains, in part at least because "some educators refuse to crack down."

His Bureau, Henry L. Giordano told a House Appropriations subcommittee recently, "has a problem in just about every one of the major universities in the country in marijuana," a "disturbing" situation "because some of the educators themselves are not frowning upon the use of marijuana and some of the other dangerous drugs," holding in some instances that our young people should have the "privilege of self-expression and should be able to experiment."

The suspicion has been growing in this country for some time that life on the typical college campus is not all we would have it; that a great many young people are in college who shouldn't be there and that much of the time of those who are capable of taking advantage of the learning enrollment in a college makes possible is being frittered away.

If familiarity with "amphetamines, hallucinogenic drugs, tranquilizers and drugs of that sort" has become an accepted part of the college experience perhaps the number is greater than had been thought and the value of a college education even more dubious than had been suspected. — Wheeling (W.V.) Ph.D.'s: Production And Range

According to Scientific America, 200,000 persons in this country have been awarded Ph.D. degrees in science by American universities. The percentage of science doctorates of the total number of doctorates in all fields ranges between 45 to 53 per cent. That suggests that not yet, at least, has the nationwide educational emphasis upon science resulted in a nation top heavy with scientists.

How does the South share in this production of science doctorates? The figures show that Southern universities produce only 12 per cent of the total, as compared with 40 per cent by universities in the Middle West, 32 per cent in the Middle Atlantic States, 7 per cent in New England, and 12 per cent — the same as the South — in the West. But if the South is producing only 12 per cent of the doctorates, it's a different story on where the doctorates are going. New England retains only 7 per cent. Twenty per cent are employed in the Middle Atlantic States, 25 per cent in Middle West, and 24 per cent in the South.

Only the Middle West exceeds the South in attracting the science Ph.D.'s, and that by only one per cent. This is a true index of how the South is gaining stature in terms of its opportunity. But we've still got a way to go in producing Ph.D.'s. We attract twice as many as we produce. — Florence (S. C.) Morning News

Attention Wives:
Golf Is Safer

Statistics show that 75,000 accidents occur every year to people using power lawn mowers. Statistics are wonderful things. If a fellow cuts his grass every other week instead of weekly, for example, he is 50 per cent less apt to have his toe cut off, or a rock thrown in his face, bringing on an expensive doctor and hospital bill. Wives who insist on husbands cutting the grass every Saturday should take notice. Golf is safer. — Laurel (Miss.) Leader-Call

Way Cleared
for Kidney Transplant

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Tests have cleared the way for the University of Arkansas Medical Center's first kidney transplant using a kidney donated by a living non-relative.

Lindell Hitchcock, 34, of Tulsa will give a kidney to Mrs. Inez Merrill, 27, also of Tulsa. The operation is expected in early June.

So far, the Medical Center had done 10 kidney transplants, five using donors who are blood relatives and five using kidneys from non-relative cadavers.

Bennett Rules
ALC Highway
Probe Illegal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett ruled today that the Legislative Audit Committee does not have the authority to make a full-scale investigation of the state Highway Department.

The ruling was requested by Rep. Sterling Cockrill Jr. of Pulaski County, chairman of the committee.

Cockrill's reaction to news of Bennett's ruling was that the committee still has the authority to call witnesses and question them about the recent illegal salary increases in the department.

The committee can look into any fiscal matter, Cockrill said, and $2.1 million worth of unauthorized pay raises fall into the category.

The committee is scheduled to meet Friday in Washington, Ark., to consider whether to investigate the matter. Cockrill said that, while he favors a probe, other committee members seem to be divided on the question.

State Sen. Jim Raney of Warren requested an investigation by the committee.

The state Highway Commission, conducting an investigation of its own, has fired two top echelon department employees in connection with the pay raises.

The raises have been rescinded and refunded.

Bulletin

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — An artificial heart, implanted in a man, began functioning at 11:18 a.m. today.

To Implant
Artificial Heart in Man

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Methodist Hospital spokesmen said today that an artificial heart may be implanted in a human today for the first time.

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey was seeking to determine whether use of an artificial heart was advisable in the patient, who was not named.

Dr. DeBakey is one of the nation's most noted heart surgeons. The new device, backed by a $4.5-million research project, was designed to do part or all of the work of a human heart until the patient's heart is repaired and recovers sufficient function on its own.

The artificial heart is made of plastic. Earlier, Dr. DeBakey said such an implant would require two to three hours. In an earlier briefing when it was decided to implant an artificial heart in the first patient requiring it, Dr. DeBakey said his decision to use the plastic heart probably would not be made until after an operation was under way.

Easter Seal
Campaign
Raises $82

Haskell Jones, Easter Seal Fund Drive Chairman, announced that the school campaign brought in $82.37. The largest class contribution was made by the First grade at Brookwood and came to $6.48. The breakdown is as follows:

Brookwood	$17.48
Fulton	2.75
Garland	13.85
Hopewell	11.91
Hope Jr. High	3.95
Hope Sr. High	6.15
Paisley	3.15
Shover St.	15.75
Yerger	7.38

For a total of $82.37. Mrs. Jewell Moore, Jr. was in charge of this part of the campaign. The 9th Grade girls collected $28.72 in Lily Sales on Saturday April 9th. The two events together totaled $111.87. The first report on seal letters indicates that $231 was received from the first group forwarded to the center in Little Rock. A final group will be forwarded this weekend and a complete report is expected very shortly.

Urged to Complete
School Choice Form

James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools, announced today that all parents are urged to complete Choice Forms and to return to the superintendent's office, or to the school which they are attending. April 30 is the last day to register.

Parents who have children starting to school next fall for the first time are to register at the school of their choice by April 30.

Students at Detroit Set Up
'Free School'

DETROIT (AP) — Students boycotting Detroit's predominantly Negro Northern High School planned today to set up a "freedom school" despite a veiled threat of disciplinary action if they don't return to classes.

Demands for the ouster of Principal Arthur Carly were rejected Wednesday by Detroit School Superintendent Samuel Brownell, who conceded that "strong disagreements exist at the teacher-administrative level."

Students have complained that they are receiving an inadequate education at Northern compared with predominantly white high schools. They laid most of the blame on Carly and some faculty members backed them up.

Discontent at the school boiled over after school administrators refused to permit the student newspaper to publish an editorial critical of the academic standards of the school.

Establishment of a "freedom school," student leaders said, would show that they prefer education to picketing.

Some 1,500 chanting demonstrators, including parents and teachers, paraded around the school for more than two hours Wednesday. Only a handful of the school's 2,300 students attended classes.

Brownell said an investigation by the Board of Education into the complaints would continue. Testimony has been heard from both sides.

Four-County
Development
Aid $25,642

The Office of Economic Opportunity announces a community action program grant in the amount of $25,642 has been approved for four counties. The announcement was made by Marion H. Crank, Foreman, SW Developer Council, Inc. in conjunction with Judges Orrie Byers of Hempstead, Ray Sikes of Little River and J. Martin Tackett of Lafayette counties, and Curtis Robertson of Miller County.

The grant provides funds for a program of developing and staffing for the Four County Community Action Agency under the auspices of the Economic Opportunity office.

Mr. Crank said applicants will be received by him for positions as of director, associate director and a combination secretary-bookkeeper. It is the plan to hire four non-professional residents, one from county, to set up an office in county in the area.

Applicants must have a college degree or equal work experience for the two offices. The secretary-bookkeeper applicants must have business school graduation or have work experience comparable to a graduate. Applications will be received in writing at Foreman, Ark. through April 30.

He will answer questions about any other school activity during the meeting. The meetings will start at 7:30 p.m.

All interested patrons are invited and parents are urged to attend.

Wind Downs
Brick Wall,
Man Killed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
High winds tumbled a brick wall of a building under construction near Dumas Wednesday, killing Cornell Davis of McGehee and injuring one of his fellow workers.

Turbulent weather also produced at least one tornado and a cold air mass tumbled the state's temperatures.

Davis was killed at the construction site of a Sunbeam Corp. plant, and Jesse Steen Jr., 20, also of McGehee, was hospitalized, though not in serious condition.

Later in the day another wall of the plant was blown down, but no one was working at the time because rain forced a halt in construction.

The tornado covered a three-mile path at Eureka Springs, but there were no injuries and property damage was minor.

Evangelist to Run
for Lt. Governor

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — The Rev. Thomas Glen Thompson, 47, a radio evangelist and founder of "The Healing Word Tabernacle, Inc.," said Wednesday he was going to run as a Democrat for lieutenant governor.

Thompson, who said he would file early next week, said he has desired to run for the office for the past 20 years, but he considered Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon too nice a man to oppose.

Gordon has announced he will not seek re-election.

Six Pacifists
Kicked Out
of Viet Nam

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The peace visit of six American pacifists to South Viet Nam came to a tumultuous end today when they were pulled kicking and protesting onto a plane for Hong Kong after police blocked their march on the U.S. Embassy.

In a final defiant gesture, the Americans scattered antiwar pamphlets that fluttered across the runway of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport as police hauled them up the ramp of the Pan American jetliner.

Police roughed up several newsmen, seized the cameras of two television photographers and briefly detained a third cameraman during the wild exit scene at the airport.

Five of the pacifists, led by a veteran peace crusader, the Rev. A. J. Muste, 81, of New York, were brought to the airport in a police van five hours earlier after police prevented their staging a one-hour antiwar vigil at the embassy.

Carrying placards and pamphlets, the Presbyterian minister and four other members of the U.S. Committee for Non-Violent Action walked nearly six blocks through the streets of Saigon at 7 a.m. Around the corner from the embassy they ran into the line of policemen.

Bonds Approved
at Marked Tree

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP) — Voters approved 373-33 Tuesday two bond issues totaling $758,000 to buy a private water company and to expand Marked Tree's sewer system.

The City Council has agreed to purchase E. Ritter Water Co. for an estimated $383,000. The city will use the remainder of the bond issues to improve collection sewers and disposal facilities.

Cold Returns to Arkansas,
May Frost

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cold air that penetrated the state Wednesday will remain through Friday morning, the U. S. Weather Bureau said today.

Scattered frost is predicted for Northeast Arkansas tonight. Icy air that swept the state Wednesday dropped overnight temperatures below freezing in the northern half of the state.

Fayetteville reported a low of 29 degrees. Elsewhere readings ranged from 33 degrees at Harrison to 47 degrees at El Dorado.

The heavy rains triggered by the intrusion of the cold air will end by tonight, the bureau said. As much as three inches of rain fell in portions of the state during the period of rains, the bureau said. In the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. Texas reported 1.60 inches of rain and El Dorado 1.31.

The bureau said there would be a slight warming trend Friday.

More rain showers are likely to move up from the south and southwest Friday, the bureau said.

Maximum temperatures Wednesday ranged from 68 degrees at Fort Smith and Fayetteville to 83 degrees at Memphis.

Iran Sentences
Communist Pair

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Two Iranian Communist leaders were sentenced to death by an army tribunal today for plotting against the Shah's regime.

The government identified them as Parviz Hekmatjou and Ali Khavarian and said Khavarian had been an announcer for the anti-Iran Persian service of Peking radio.

They were caught at the border trying to cross into the Soviet Union with six other outlawed Communist party members. The other six were sentenced to prison terms.

On April 8, the total diverted acreage stood at 4,954,000 acres. This would leave about 10,488,000 acres for cotton growing under the program. Plantings last year totaled 14.2 million acres.

At recent average acre yields, the crop this year might turn out to be around 3.9 million bales lower last year.

Stocks of cotton on hand on Aug. 1 have been forecast at a record high of 18.7 million bales.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iraq's new president, Maj. Gen. Abdel Rahman Aref, called Monday night for brotherhood between his Arab people and the two million Kurdish rebels fighting for self rule.

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops battled a mixed Viet Cong - North Vietnamese heavy weapons battalion today, killing at least 173 Communists in stiff fighting that broke a days-long lull in the ground war, U.S. spokesmen reported.

Marine helicopters landed the allied troops virtually on top of the enemy positions 10 miles west of Quang Nang on the northern coast, after they were pinpointed by a Viet Cong detector, officers reported. Heavy fighting broke out immediately.

In the air war against North Viet Nam U. S. Air Force jets renewed assaults on approaches to the strategic Mu Gia Pass after thousands of laborers toiled day and night to reopen the landslide-clogged funnel to the Ho Chi Minh Trail, a U.S. spokesman said.

Only eight days ago U.S. B52s dumped 700 tons of bombs on the winding mountain route on the Laotian frontier 230 miles south of Hanoi in the Strategic Air Command's first strike against the Communist North.

Maj. Gen. Lewis J. Fields of Salisbury, Md., commander of the U.S. 1st Marine Division, said the enemy dead in the battle near Quang Ngai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, may exceed 300. The combined allied force also was reported to have seized a large store of Communist weapons.

American and South Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

U.S. Plan to Cut Surplus
of Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal farm program set up to reduce a record high cotton surplus appears likely to result in one of the largest crop production cutbacks in American agricultural history.

An Agriculture Department survey indicated today that cotton farmers will plant only about two thirds of the 15.4 million acres allotted this year under a crop control program. Government payments are being offered growers who agree to underplant their individual acreage allotments by at least 12 1/2 per cent.

Farmers had signed up by April 8 to divert 4,514,000 acres from their allotments to non-crop uses. Farmers had until April 15 to take steps to comply. Final figures on the cutback are expected within two weeks.

On April 8, the total diverted acreage stood at 4,954,000 acres. This would leave about 10,488,000 acres for cotton growing under the program. Plantings last year totaled 14.2 million acres.

At recent average acre yields, the crop this year might turn out to be around 3.9 million bales lower last year.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Periodic Tests Advisable As Diabetes Safeguards

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Is diabetes caused by a weak pancreas? Will eating a moderate amount of sugar cause this disease?

A—It was once thought that all forms of diabetes were due to a failure of the pancreas to produce enough insulin. Recent studies indicate that it is not that simple. Although the old theory probably holds true for the juvenile type of diabetes, which is hereditary and starts in adolescence, the cause of the milder diabetes that starts in persons who are over 40 is not yet well understood. Forunately your doctor can discover and treat both types effectively.

Eating a large amount of sugar is believed to precipitate diabetes in older persons but the dividing line between a large amount and a moderate amount is hard to determine. If you are over 40 you should have periodic tests for this disease, regardless of how much sugar you eat.

Q—I have a mild diabetes and have been taking Diabinese and Esidrix. What do these drugs do?

A—Chlorpropamide (Diabinese) reduces the concentration of sugar in your blood. The principal actions of hydrochlorothiazide (Esidrix) are to prevent waterlogging and to reduce your blood pressure.

Q—What causes chronic glomerulonephritis? How long can you have nephritis before it becomes chronic?

A—If an acute glomerulonephritis (a form of Bright's disease) persists for more than two months it must be considered chronic and as such is harder to cure. The cause is usually a streptococcal infection (streptococcal sore throat, scarlet fever or rheumatic fever). In some persons the original strep infection is so mild that it goes unrecognized until the kidney involvement is discovered.

Q—What is uremia? What are the symptoms? Is it serious? Is there any cure for it?

A—Uremia, the piling up of urea in the blood when the kidneys fail to work, is indeed serious. The victim becomes pale and anemic and complains of generalized itching, nausea and restlessness. In the late stages he will have convulsions and lose consciousness. The treatment depends on the cause. Acute uremia due to poisoning has the best prospect for cure. Some form of artificial kidney is the treatment of choice.

Q—What can peritoneal dialysis do for a person with only one kidney?

A—Peritoneal dialysis is accomplished by slowly circulating a sterile saline solution through the abdominal cavity. In a person whose kidney function is impaired it rids the body of poisons.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Fresh Fruit Salad Top Spring Tonic

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A fresh fruit salad is one of the best spring tonics you can find. Far better than the old-fashioned sulphur and molasses. A thousand times more pleasant, too. And for an extra fillip, use a cranberry juice dressing with it. Serve as a combination salad-dessert course once in a while.

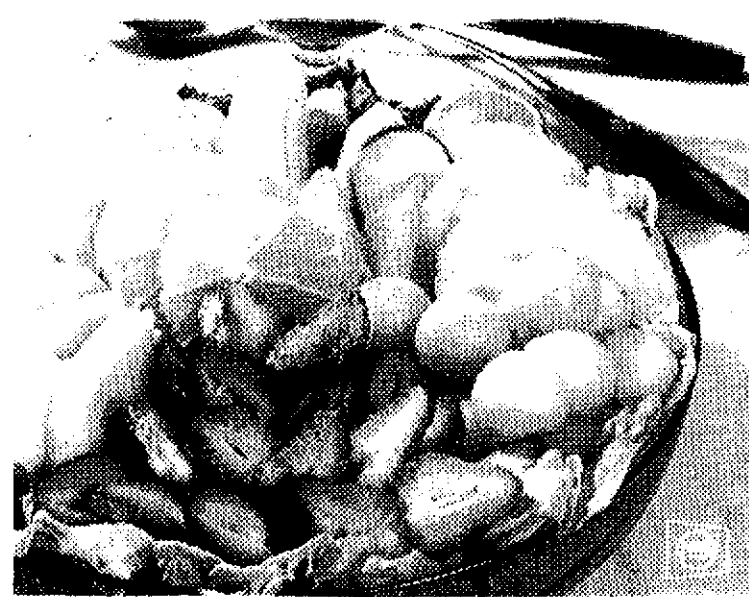

SPRING FRUIT FESTIVAL WITH CRANBERRY DRESSING (Serves 8)

SALAD
Boston lettuce leaves
1 small fresh pineapple, trimmed, quartered and cut into slices
3 navel oranges, peeled and sliced
2 grapefruit, peeled and cut into sections

4 bananas, peeled, sliced lengthwise, halved and brushed with lemon juice
2 cups cantaloupe or melon balls
1 pint strawberries, hulled and cut into halves
SALAD DRESSING
1½ cups cranberry juice cocktail
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons oil
2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice
2 tablespoons honey

Line a salad bowl with lettuce leaves. Arrange fruit decoratively in bowl. Chill until ready to serve. Gradually stir cranberry juice into cornstarch. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture bubbles and thickens. Cool. Beat in oil, lemon juice and honey. Chill. Beat again and serve with salad.

EYE INTEREST—Movies can be a rough way to make a living. Italian actress Rosanna Schiaffino discovered when a scene with an over-enthusiastic actor resulted in a genuine shiner. She made the most of the situation, however, by decorating her eye patch for a little eye interest.

SPRING FRUIT FESTIVAL packs pleasure.

Polly's Pointers

Chase Away Door Squeaks

By Polly Cramer, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Polly

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is for those who have squeaky doors. I suggest they take the door off its hinges and, using steel wool and a small file, clean the rust off the hinge pin and the moving parts of the hinge. Apply a small amount of oil to all the surfaces that move as well as to the pin and then reassemble. This usually takes care of the problem. —KENNETH

A Polly Dollar is on its way to another of our clever gentlemen readers.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—One of my favorite kitchen helpers is a plastic surface mat without a foam back. This makes a wonderful surface for slicing, cutting or chopping vegetables or meat. It is easy to pick up to transfer foods to a utensil or dish. When making sandwiches on it the crumbs are confined and it is easy to wipe clean.—ALICE

DEAR POLLY—I could not find a pink tablecloth large enough for my oval table. I made one using a pink twin-size sheet and the white fringe from an old twin-size bedspread. Now I have a beautiful cloth for an expenditure of only $2.50. Later I made a rug warp from the bedspread. I cut the spread into one and half-inch strips, sewed them together and rolled into four large balls. Now I have a white rug with green warp that is 54 inches long by 27 inches wide. The cost was $2. It took all the fringe from the bedspread to go around the tablecloth.—MRS. L. W. S.

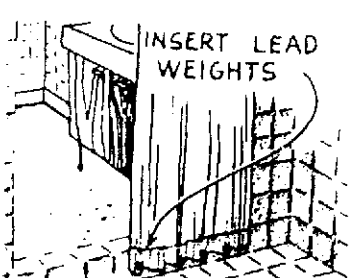

GIRLS—To make a floor-length cloth out of a sheet some piecing is necessary. I just made one. I presume MRS. L. W. S. has a loom and wove her rug.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I read the advice to Mrs. T. K. concerning using magnets to hold down a blowing shower curtain. If her shower stall is like mine, stone and ceramic tile, you know darn well that magnets will not stick. I solved this same problem by stitching a clear plastic pocketed hem to the bottom of the curtain and inserting lead weights such as are used on drapes. This works fine.—MRS. S. B.

GIRLS—and Mrs. S. B.—One of the nice things about this column of exchanging Pointers is that one suggestion will always bring forth others that fit in different circumstances or are someone else's preference. No one idea will fit every case and every person.—POLLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY: I would like to have some ideas on something special that can be made out of those plastic mesh bags that come filled with produce. These bags are too nice to throw away.—MRS. W. H. S.

Rising Prices Giving Glow to Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Rising prices are giving an unexpected glow to the economy. Is it the glow of health or of fever?

The three big spenders—consumers, business and government—all have been paying out more dollars. But about a third of their increased outlays is due to higher price tags and only two-thirds represents buying of more units of output.

Still, the rate of increase is larger than at any time since 1950 when consumer panic buying at the outset of the Korean War sent the economy soaring—in terms of dollars if not of health.

The unexpected gain this year hasn't been due to panic buying. It has been due more to affluence. The spenders—consumers, business and government—all have had more dollars to spend.

Consumers have more dollars because there are more jobs this year than last, because many wage scales have risen, and because in 1964 and 1965 federal tax rates were cut with the aim of promoting prosperity and cutting unemployment. It worked. The nagging question now is if it worked too well.

Business has more to spend this year, partly because it too enjoys lower tax rates than a few years back, but mainly because sales and profits have been soaring to record heights. Government has more to spend because the larger incomes of individuals and corporations have produced big tax collections even at lower rates. And also the government debt has risen, meaning Uncle Sam has borrowed to get the dollars for larger expenditures, both at home and in Viet Nam.

Efforts to curb spending all along the line may check the economy's faster pace a bit in the current April-June quarter. President Johnson has urged all hands to go slow, to put off some planned outlays, to shun products and services on which prices have been rising faster than the average.

Top business executives have promised to cut back some of their record expansion plans for 1966. The president has asked federal departments and agencies to trim government spending, or at least to postpone some of it. Total consumer spendable income will be clipped somewhat by larger tax withholding from pay checks of those in higher income brackets.

But few expect the rate of the growth in the economy to be chilled much.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jose Iturbi's reflections at 70:

"How do I feel? No different. It is like looking at the sun. You see it in the sky, and it does not appear to be moving. But if you go away and come back to look at it, you can see that it has moved. And then the sun sets, and you know for sure that it has moved."

Iturbi at 70 is far from the sunset of his years. Despite a flu attack that had prompted him to cancel several concerts, the pianist-conductor appeared for an interview in his Beverly Hills home with his usual vigor. "Physical condition means a great deal in piano playing; so much of it is muscular. That's why I have always prided myself in remaining in top shape."

Different Dish

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There doesn't always have to be "a chicken in the pot" for Sunday. Or a roasted meat or a turkey. Try something totally different for a change—something good, of course, but out of the old familiar groove. Variety spices the appetite, remember.

FRESH BROCCOLI AND HAM DIVAN

(Serves 6)

- 1 large bunch (about 2 lbs.) fresh broccoli
- 1 inch boiling water in saucepan
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups diced cooked ham
- Mustard-Cheese Sauce
- 1 cup soft bread cubes
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Wash and trim broccoli. Cut large stalks in halves or quarters. Place in a saucepan with boiling water and salt. Cover and parboil until about half done, lifting the lid once or twice. Arrange 1/2 of the broccoli in the bottom of a 10x6x2-inch baking dish. Cover with a layer of cooked ham and then with Mustard-Cheese Sauce. Sprinkle with bread cubes blended with the melted butter or margarine. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Remove from oven and garnish with remaining cooked broccoli.

MUSTARD-CHEESE SAUCE

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 teaspoon powdered mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 2 cu. shredded sharp American or Cheddar cheese

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Blend in flour until smooth. Add milk and seasonings and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add cheese and stir until melted.

HOME GARDENER'S Notebook

To start new plants from old take cuttings 3 to 4 inches long.

Keep moist. Plant in rooting mixture.

New Plants From Old

By Allan and Sheila Swenson
NEA Garden Specialists

Do you have some favorite plants? Sometimes a plant such as an azalea, hydrangea or lilac has sentimental value and you have to move. You can't take the plant with you but you'd like another just like it some day.

Or you wish you had a shrub like that of a neighbor and he offers you a "slip."

The time to try to root cuttings is from July to August as new growth begins to harden.

The rule of thumb is that if you can bend the cutting without snapping it, you can be pretty sure it's ready.

If you're making your first attempt at propagation, it may pay you to take more than one cutting. Take your cuttings 3 or 4 inches long, with the lower end cut just below a leaf joint. Keep only one or two leaves at the top.

Keep cuttings moist until you stick them into your rooting medium. Use a mixture of damp sand and peat moss or vermiculite. About half the stem length should be covered.

Modern rooting hormones available in garden supply stores encourage root development. Follow label directions implicitly. Be careful not to use too much.

Plastic bags make a substitute "greenhouse" to supply needed humidity, especially when you have only a few cuttings in a flower pot.

Bend old wire coat hangers in half-loops to keep the plants from touching the plastic.

After about a month, check on whether your cuttings are rooting. Be gentle with any you replace.

Remove the plastic cover little by little over a period of several days to harden off the new plants. Then pot them in a mixture of equal parts of topsoil, sand and peat moss or leaf mold.

For propagation details, write for your free copy of the U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin, "Home Propagation of Ornamental Trees and Shrubs," No. 80, USDA, Washington 25, D. C.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

Such a philosophy has preserved his position as one of the top attractions of the concert world for more than four decades. His achievements will be saluted next month by a 70th birthday concert with the Los Angeles Music Festival, which is celebrating its 20th year at UCLA.

In addition, Iturbi will be displaying his muscular style at the keyboard and on the podium in concert halls all over the world.

"I am a great believer in air travel," he remarked. "I have piloted my own plane, and I like nothing better than to be setting out in a jet for a far-off concert. My dog whom I love is now 8 1/2 years old — my age! — and he has accompanied me on 42 trips across the Atlantic, not to mention flights to South Africa, South America and wherever."

He and his dog have slowed their pace, he admitted. From a one-time high of 192 concerts in one year, the Spanish-born musician has dropped to 50 to 60, and that's the way he would like to keep his schedule.

His life at home, as on the road, permits little leisure. His passion for condition dictates a rigorous schedule of exercise, particularly at the punching bag. Piano practice is a never-ending discipline.

"I work on technique for an hour and a half — two hours," he said. "Then I take up the work that is current. That can mean two-three hours — whatever is required." He is constantly adding new works to his repertoire.

How long will he continue to play? "I will play only as long as I feel I can play. In that regard I have an artistic conscience."

"Old Kinderhook"

The term "O.K." is said by authorities to come from the initials for "Old Kinderhook," a nickname for Martin Van Buren taken from the name of the New York village where he was born. It was used as a political rallying cry when he ran for the presidency in 1840, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Third Set of Twins Is a Million to One Chance Medical Group Decides

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Jane Froggatt, 28, has given birth to her third set of twins.

"This is extremely unusual," said a spokesman for the British Medical Association. "It's not completely unheard of, but it's certainly a million to one chance."

Mrs. Froggatt, wife of Sussex farmer Richard Froggatt, gave birth to her third set of twins in a London maternity home two weeks ago. She took them home

Monday.

The first set of twins — Jennie and Ian — were born four years ago.

Then came Peter and Allison, now 16 months old.

The new twins are Nigel and Eric.

"My husband and I had a slight shock when the first set was born," said Mrs. Froggatt, "and it was even more of a shock when the second pair came along."

She added: "I can assure it was a triple shock when the last arrived, but we love them all dearly."

Mrs. Froggatt said that after their first set of twins, her husband took out insurance against having another pair.

When the second pair was born he collected $350.

After the second set he took out another policy against his wife having a third set of twins.

Mrs. Froggatt said husband hoped to collect $2,800 on Nigel and Eric.

"If we didn't live on a farm our bills would be enormous," said the mother. "For instance, the children consume about 45 pints of milk a week and eat about 60 eggs. I make my own bread, cakes and jam."

Here Is Easy-Care Bridal Lingerie

Refreshing change from the traditional hearts-and-flowers mood of bridal negligees is the tea-gown (left) in draped Antron nylon tricot. It can double as a dinner dress. This is by Lucie Ann. Short sleepdress and coat (center) in easy-care batiste of Dacron and cotton has pleated ruffles at the neck, hem and sleeves. It is a Saramae design. Among the new cape-y shapes for sleepwear is the embroidered capelet in soft batiste by Henson-Kickernick (right), which barely covers the empire bodice of its companion gown.

NEW YORK — (N.E.A.) — Everyone knows that when a girl announces her engagement, the time has come for her, her fiancé and her family, to spend a goodly sum. One survey estimates the amount as over $4,000, not counting the reception.

But the surprising figure of $300 was listed as the amount the average bride spends on intimate apparel for her trousseau. This includes gowns, robes and lounge wear.

Because today's bride is younger than the brides of 10 years ago, her taste will be younger, even in nightwear. She will enjoy wearing the short, kooky fashions so popular among young people. Yet every bride should have at least one fragile, feminine ensemble of gown and peignoir. Somehow this is a

by Helen Hennessy, Newspaper Enterprise Women's Editor

home. These, of course, eat up the larger portion of the lingerie budget.

But don't stay single just because you can't spend $300 on your lingerie trousseau. Everything you buy will take like a duck to water. So just a few changes should do the trick.

Sausage in Salads

Meaty salads make a balanced lunch or warm weather supper. One of the easiest uses ready-to-serve meats with greens such as head lettuce and other greens broken into bite size chunks, sliced radishes, cucumbers and green pepper strips.

For the "cold cuts" use a mild sausage in combination with a spicy type like bologna and summer sausage or salami, cut julienne style. Serve with desired salad dressing.

Creamy Corn Stuffs Savory Pork Arm Steak

Pork and corn have a flavor affinity that's very appealing. You'll wonder why you didn't think of teaming pork steaks with a corn stuffing long before this!

Arm steaks come from the shoulder section of pork, says meat authority Reba Staggs, and they're frequently marketed in the one-half inch thickness. To make them suitable for stuffing the round bone is removed from them with a small paring knife.

Spread with stuffing, they're then rolled and fastened with a skewer or tied with string before baking.

Golden Filled Pork Rolls

8 pork arm steaks, cut 1/2 inch thick

Salt

Pepper

1 can, 16 ounces creamed corn

1 1/2 teaspoons salt

2 eggs, beaten

1 tablespoon melted butter

1/2 cup chopped green onions

2 tablespoons chopped parsley

1 egg soft bread crumbs

1/2 teaspoon dry basil

1 teaspoon sage

Remove bones from pork steaks. Season with salt and pepper. Combine remaining ingredients, mix lightly and stuff steaks. Roll each steak as a jelly roll and fasten with a skewer or tie with string. Place rolls in a baking dish and bake in 350-degree oven for 1 hour. Slice and serve.

Sour Cream Tops Potato Wedges

OVEN BAKED POTATO WEDGES feature sour cream sauce.

From California, where the spring-early summer crop of long white potatoes is beginning to be harvested for our national markets, comes this new recipe for oven-baked potato wedges. You'll enjoy the sour cream sauce with them.

OVEN BAKED POTATO WEDGES
(Serves 8)
medium (2 1/2 lbs.) California Long White potatoes, peeled
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/2 teaspoon thyme leaves
1/2 cup butter, melted
Sour Cream Sauce

Cut potatoes lengthwise into quarters. Toss with salt and black pepper. In small skillet melt butter. Stir in thyme. Warm over low heat for 1 minute. In 10x6x1 1/2-inch baking dish, arrange one-half of potatoes in one layer; coat with one-half of thyme butter. Repeat with second layer of potatoes and brush with remaining butter. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 hour and 20 minutes. Serve with Sour Cream Sauce.

SOUR CREAM SAUCE
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
1 tablespoon butter, melted
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 cup water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
3/4 cup sour cream
Prepare Sour Cream Sauce by heating butter in a small saucepan. Stir in flour. Blend in water, salt and pepper. Stir over low heat until mixture reaches boiling point. Stir in sour cream; cook until thickened, stirring.

Roasting Leg of Lamb
It may be a challenge to get the roast meat thermometer in a leg of lamb without having it touch fat or bone, especially if the leg is closer to four pounds rather than five or six.

Do not remove the paper-like covering or "fell" from the meat as this will help this tender meat to keep its shape during roasting.

Leg of lamb is roasted to 175° F. for medium-done and 180° F. for well-done. For the average leg of lamb, the time involved in roasting will range from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 hours. Plan on 30 to 35 minutes per pound for roasting time.

Have both serving platter and plates warmed for serving roast lamb. It's best when served hot. For cold service, make certain the meat is well chilled.

Hearty Ham Sandwich
Add diced leftover ham to canned baked beans with chopped onion, mustard and catchup for seasoning. Spread on buns, top with grated Cheddar cheese and broil until cheese melts.

Miss Lansbury Goes to Broadway

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The social event of the season for the residents of Malibu Beach, Calif., will take place in New York on May 24.

On that date Mrs. Peter Shaw, a Malibu girl by adoption, opens on Broadway in "Mame," the musical version of "Auntie Mame," and the first Broadway musical since "Hello Dolly!" for composer Jerry Herman.

Mrs. Shaw is better-known, everywhere but in her local supermarket, as Angela Lansbury. She is a talented actress, delighted with the fact that she is heading a major musical, but already missing her family.

"But we all agreed at home that mother couldn't pass up an opportunity like this," she said, in a snatched-from-rehearsal moment in her dressing room.

The fact is that if Angela had the ambition that drives most of the actresses in the theater, she would probably be the biggest name of any on a marquee. She has the talent. But home and family mean a great deal to her, and so she will pass up an opportunity, unless, like "Mame," it's too big to reject.

"If I were a single girl, then I might be caught up in this whole thing about developing my career. But luckily I am blessed with a whole other side of life. If a role falls through, I have my other happiness to compensate.

"I'm a very philosophical person, but then I can afford to be. This role is the apex of what has been a fascinating career. To end up now heading the cast of a big, new musical has given my kids kicks and all my neighbors in Malibu want to come East to see the show."

There is no career vs. family conflict for Angela, a Briton who left England during the war years to escape the blitz. "How it is handled depends entirely on the individual. I know friends who can't sublimate themselves to a family role. You can't be much of an egotist and mix family and career. In a sense, I am an egotist, because I need the balance acting gives me. But I also need the relaxation and simple warmth of family life to balance the exciting, exotic, out-of-proportion life that is show business.

"It's tough to always have to live up to an image. I don't mean that I go to market with my hair up in pins, but I do wear jeans. If I were to dress up in the movie star image to go to market, my neighbors would look at me and ask, 'Have you been to town, Mrs. Shaw?'"

Angela's husband is an MGM executive. Their children are Deirdre, called Deedee, 12, Anthony, 14, and David, 22 (Angela's stepson).

"I just got a letter from the children," she said, reaching for it, "and they sent me this clipping from their school paper. They got a write-up about the trip to New York they made with me."

She displayed the notice with much more pride than she has ever shown in any of her many good reviews.

Robards Yarns For the Stage

Jason Robards in New York.

By DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Jason Robards' dry voice crackled like a forest fire. He leaned forward and there was a sadness in his expressive eyes.

"This is a bad time," he said, "for a stage actor to be living. And that's what I am, or want to be—a stage actor. But opportunities for stage actors are on the decline. It gets worse every year."

He talked about the pure pleasure he feels in appearing on stage in a good play. He never suffers from stage fright, which is one good indication how much at home he is on stage. But it gets harder and harder to find a good play.

"I honestly don't know what I'm going to do," he says. "Oh, I'll keep looking for a new play. But if I don't find one, I just don't know."

He would thoroughly enjoy appearing in a repertory company somewhere, like the community theaters springing up around the country. But they don't pay very much.

"I have several families to support," he says, with that crackling voice. "I must make money."

And so he does movies. He enjoys them, too, at least the good ones, but not as completely as he enjoys appearing in a play.

He has been fortunate — or intelligent — in picking out good movie scripts lately. There was "A Thousand Clowns," a classic in its own way. And now he's working at Warner Bros. in "Any Wednesday," another hit comedy from Broadway being turned into a film.

"There are no good dramas being written today," Robards says. "Only comedies. The public doesn't seem to want dramas."

Robards, like many other actors, seems to feel that the best writing nowadays is being done for the screen, rather than for the stage. And so he has been working more in movies lately than on the stage.

He could, of course, do a television series if he wanted to, but he refuses.

"An actor in a series," he says, "isn't in the acting business any more—he's in the advertising business."

Which gets us back to Robards' original thesis — that he's living in the wrong era for a man who prefers working on the stage. He talks with cles available, Robards also thinks those days were better financially — "Booth and Garrick were better off than any actor today," he says.

While he is doing "Any Wednesday" here, his wife, Lauren Bacall, is back in New York in the hit comedy, "Cactus Flower."

"Our phone bills," he says, "are so high that I won't have anything left when I finally go home."
